

An invitation to the Book Launch of
The Book of Evan:
The Work and Life of Evan McAra Sherrard

Edited by Keith Tudor

This is a book about Evan McAra Sherrard (1934-2015), and his adventures in and with the human spirit. A man who had four vocations – agriculture, ministry, education, and psychotherapy – and many parts. He was instrumental in setting up the Cameron Centre in Dunedin in the 1960s, the Human Development Team within Presbyterian Support Services in Auckland in the late 1970s, and the Psychotherapy Programme at Auckland Institute (now University) of Technology in the late 1980s. More broadly, he was hugely influential in the practice, professions and organisation of transactional analysis, psychodrama, psychotherapy, and counselling in Aotearoa New Zealand.

This book brings together Evan's mostly unpublished writings in these various fields of interest, together with contributions from some 40 people, including his family, who represent the breadth and depth of influence that Evan's work and life had – and continues to have today.

Auckland University of Technology
Faculty of Health & Environmental Sciences and School of Public Health & Psychosocial Studies are pleased to invite you to the launch of this book.

To be held on

Tuesday 4th April 2017 – from 5.30pm

AUT North, 90 Akoranga Drive, Northcote, Auckland
The Foyer, AF Building

PAY AND DISPLAY PARKING IS AVAILABLE ON CAMPUS

RSVP as soon as possible – and, in any case, by Monday 27th March – to lucinda.duplooy@aut.ac.nz for catering purposes.

This book will be available for purchase:
Special launch price: $40 ea. Save $5.00