

Wellington Transactional Analysis Institute

Introduction to Transactional Analysis (TA101)

Saturday 5th and Sunday 6th of November 2016

Venue to be arranged.

Transactional Analysis is a method of understanding our own internal world and our interactions with others. It is widely used in psychotherapy, counselling, organisational work and in education.

The TA101 is an internationally recognized training course.

Students who participate in the whole course are awarded the TA101 Certificate. This is awarded by the International Transactional Analysis Association (ITAA). Recipients of the TA101 Certificate can apply for the appropriate category of membership in ITAA.

The TA101 is a general introduction to Transactional Analysis and is open to anyone wishing to learn more about the human condition. It is also a prerequisite for people wishing to enrol in professional training courses offered by various Transactional Analysis Training Institutes locally, nationally and internationally, that may lead to Certification as a Transactional Analyst.

Cost: $250.00 payable on enrolment.

Numbers: the course is limited to no more than 15.

Tutor: John C Savage

John has been working as a Therapist in Wellington since 1998.

His work includes experience in residential treatment centres, therapeutic communities, outpatient treatment clinics, general counselling and psychotherapy for a range of issues. He is currently in private practice in Wellington. John holds Membership with the New Zealand Association of Psychotherapists and the New Zealand Association of Counsellors.

John is also a trainer, supervisor and teacher of Psychotherapists and Counsellors. He holds international qualifications as a teacher and supervisor including a Masters Degree in Science (MSc) from Middlesex University in London.

To be sent an enrolment form please contact John : jc.savage@paradise.net.nz